To Our Shareholders

Dear Shareholder:

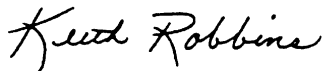

It goes without saying that the economic events of 2007 exposed a tremendous upheaval in the financial industry, especially in the areas of real estate financing, bond markets and the other monetary instruments that support it.

One of our primary sources of revenue, the financing of homes, has all but dried up from the unwise, and perhaps foolhardy, creative financing that was aggressively sold by some in the industry. This resulted in a negative impact on home loan origination nationwide and put many people in the unenviable position of having mortgage commitments that they could not afford.

As we hope you are aware, Butte Community Bank chose not to engage or invest in any of these high-risk programs. Nevertheless, as a member of the broad financial community, we too were affected by the consequences.

The national credit turmoil will continue to affect our profitability for the near future. We can be proud that our Bank has a strong asset portfolio and is developing new markets and technologies to add even more opportunities for growth.

2008 will be a year of transition in the financial industry. Rest assured that Butte Community Bank, with support from our insurance, investment and payroll divisions, is well positioned for this challenge and the winding road ahead.

Keith Robbins
President
Chief Executive Officer

Don Leforce

Management's Discussion & Analysis

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations for the years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006.

This condensed discussion and analysis of the Company's financial position and results of operations should be read in connection with the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2007.

Overview

Net income was $6,459,000 ($0.87 basic and $0.85 diluted earnings per share) for 2007 compared to 2006 earnings of $7,151,000 ($0.98 basic and $0.93 diluted earnings per share). Return on average shareholders' equity was 13.22% in 2007 and 15.99% in 2006. Return on average assets in 2007 and 2006 was 1.13% and 1.38%, respectively.

As of December 31, 2007, total assets were $581 million, or a 5.6% increase over the $550 million at year end 2006. The Company had net portfolio loans totaling $441 million at December 31, 2007, for a slight decrease of $1 million, or .23% from the $442 million at December 31, 2006. Deposits increased 3.3% to $501 million from the previous year end total of $485 million. The Company continued its branch expansion in 2007 by opening new offices in Anderson and Redding and new products such as the liquid certificate of deposit and remote deposit capture were introduced.

Net Interest Income

Net interest income is the difference between total interest income and total interest expense. It is expressed as a percentage of average earning assets and is referred to as net interest margin. It is used to measure the difference between the average rate of interest earned on assets primarily loans and investments, and the average rate of interest that is paid on deposits and other liabilities used to fund those assets. The Company's net interest margin for 2007 was 5.68%, down from 6.62% in the year 2006. During 2007, the Company's net interest margin declined primarily as a result of higher deposit rates and a change in the mix of the deposits to benefit from those higher rates.

On an average basis, the rates on loans decreased by 7 basis points resulting in a decrease in interest income of $331,000. This decrease in rates was offset by the increase in the average volume of loans of $12 million that generated an additional $1.1 million in loan related interest income. During 2007 overall interest income on earning assets increased by $2.4 million primarily related to increased levels of earning assets. The Company's mix of deposits changed in 2007 as the average balances of lower cost interest bearing demand deposits declined by $28 million and higher cost savings and certificates of deposit balances increased by $77 million. The average rates paid on interest bearing deposits for 2007 was 3.03% compared to 2.33% in 2006.

Non-Interest Income

Non-interest income of $8.5 million was $1.8 million higher than the 2006 total. The traditional sources of non-interest income for the Company are service charges on deposit accounts, gains on the sale of loans, loan servicing income, alternative investment fees earned on the sales of non-deposit investment products and merchant credit card fees. A significant portion of the increase in the non-interest income came from the sale of the mortgage servicing rights in the third quarter of 2007 resulting in a one time pre-tax gain of $730,000.

Management's Discussion & Analysis

Non-Interest Expense

The Company's total non-interest expense increased to $26.7 million in 2007, as compared to $25.2 million in 2006. Refer to the Income Statement in the accompanying Consolidated Financial Statements for a detailed description on non-interest expense.

Salaries and Benefits

Salaries and employee benefits increased in 2007 by $205,000 or 1.3% from 2006. These increases were primarily due to normal salary and benefit cost increases. Full time equivalent employees decreased slightly to 260 at December 31, 2007 from 263 at December 31, 2006.

Other Expenses

Occupancy and equipment expenses were $4,221,000, an increase of $741,000 or 21% when compared to the 2006 total of $3,480,000. Much of the increase in occupancy expense was related to the additional depreciation of $446,000 primarily related to the new headquarters building as well as furniture, fixtures and equipment for the new Anderson and Redding branches which opened in the third quarter of 2007. Expenses representing telephone and data communications, postage and mail, stationery and supplies, director fees and retirement accruals, advertising and promotion, and other expenses totaled $5,319,000 for 2007 compared to $4,931,000 in 2006. Management considers this increase in expenses commensurate with the growth of the Company.

Provision for Taxes

The effective tax rate for 2007 was 40.7% compared to 41.6% for 2006. The provision for income taxes includes the provision for both current and deferred taxes based on applying the current tax rate to taxable income. Certain items of income and expense are recognized in different years for tax purposes than when applying accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, leading to differences between the Company's actual tax liability and the amount accrued for this liability based on book income.

Loans

Loan balances net of the allowance for loan losses at December 31, 2007 were $441.4 million, a slight decrease of 0.18% from the $442.3 million at year-end 2006. On an average basis, loans were $457.0 million during 2007 compared to $445.1 million in 2006.

Management's Discussion & Analysis

Risk Elements

The majority of the Company's loan activity is with customers located within the service area of its branches or lending offices. Approximately 90% of the total loan portfolio is located within the Company's service area. Significant concentrations of credit risk may exist if a number of loan customers are engaged in similar activities and have similar economic characteristics. The Company believes that it has policies and procedures in place to monitor, mitigate and identify any concentration of credit risk in the portfolio.

Non-Performing Assets

Management classifies all loans as non-accrual when they become more than 90 days past due, or earlier when the timely collection of interest or principal becomes questionable. A loan remains in non-accrual status until principal and interest are current for a sufficient period of time and also meets the Company's cash flow and collateral requirements. When this criterion is not met, the loan is charged-off against the allowance for loan losses, or in the case of real estate loans, is foreclosed and transferred to other real estate. The Company's non-performing assets as a percent of net loans totaled 0.06% at December 31, 2007 and 0.51% at December 31, 2006.

Allowances for Loan Losses

The provision for loan losses charged to operations is based on the Company's monthly evaluation of the loan portfolio and the adequacy of the allowance in relation to total loans outstanding. The provision for loan losses amounted to $225,000 in 2007 and $775,000 in 2006. This change in the provision is a reflection of the slower growth in total loans during 2007 and management's evaluation and assessment of the probable losses inherent in the loan portfolio.

The allowance for loan losses is maintained at a level considered adequate to provide for losses that can reasonably be anticipated. The allowance and relevant changes are shown in Note 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements. At December 31, 2007 the allowance for loan losses was $5.2 million or 1.17% of total loans, compared to $5.3 million or 1.18% in 2006. The Company recorded net charge-offs of $26,000 in 2007 compared to net charge-offs of $80,000 in 2006. The continued low level of charge-offs compared to industry standards reflects the Company's sound underwriting policies and collection procedures.

The Company maintains a separate allowance for losses related to undisbursed loan commitments. Management estimates the amount of probable losses by applying the loss factors used in the allowance for loan loss methodology to an estimate of the expected usage and applies the factor to the unused portion of undisbursed lines of credit. The allowance totaled $860,000 and $619,000 at December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively, and is included in accrued interest payable and other liabilities on the balance sheet.

Management's Discussion & Analysis

Capital

The Company and the Bank are subject to certain regulatory capital requirements administered by the FDIC. The FDIC has adopted risk-based capital guidelines which establish a risk-adjusted ratio relating capital to various categories of assets and off balance sheet exposures. The table showing the FDIC required ratios and the Company's and the Bank's actual ratios are shown in the Consolidated Financial Statements in Note 11. At December 31, 2007, the Company's total risk-based capital ratio was 14.1%, the Tier 1 risk-based capital was 13.1% and the leverage capital ratio was 11.6%. All ratios exceed the minimum guidelines of 8%, 4% and 4% respectively and the Bank was considered well capitalized under the regulatory framework for prompt corrective action. The Company's ratios at December 31, 2006 were 11.9%, 10.9% and 10.1%, respectively.

Liquidity Management

The Bank's liquidity is determined by the level of liquid assets (such as cash, federal funds sold and securities classified as available for sale) that are convertible to cash to meet customer withdrawal and borrowing needs. The Company's asset and liability policy is used to monitor and determine liquidity needs. At December 31, 2007, the Company's liquidity ratio (cash, fed funds, and securities) as a percentage of total liabilities was 16% as compared to 13% at December 31, 2006.

Asset and Liability Management

The objective of asset and liability management is to manage the sensitivity of net interest rate spreads to changes in interest rates. Management also attempts to balance risk with profitability. Interest rate sensitivity measures the difference in both the timing and amount at which certain assets and liabilities are re-priced. The Company historically maintains the majority of its assets and liabilities with relatively short maturities to protect its net interest income from major shifts in rates.
